Tharoor, Dubey give breach of privilege notices against each other

LO MATTHEW | MANISH B
NEW DELHI | AUG 20 2020

The political spat over the House’s handling of Congress MP Shashi Tharoor’s, and former NDTV journalist Bharti Dubey’s, privilege motions took a new twist on Friday as Tharoor and Dubey gave breach of privilege notices against each other.

Tharoor, who has been known for his sharp tongue, has been a frequent critic of the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) government, while Dubey, who has been accused of crimes, has been a vocal supporter of the opposition Congress Party.

Tharoor, in a privilege motion tabled in Parliament, had accused Defence Minister Rajnath Singh of “malfeasance” and “misconduct” in his handling of a defence project.

Tharoor alleged that Singh had used his influence to pressure the National Investigation Agency (NIA) to drop a case against him.

Dubey, in his motion, had accused Tharoor of colluding with the NIA to remove him from the case.

Both Tharoor and Dubey have been involved in a long-running legal battle over a case involving a alleged bribe paid to a NIA officer.

The case has been pending in the Supreme Court for over a year.

Tharoor and Dubey have both denied the allegations.

It remains to be seen how the matter will be resolved.
