CBI books alleged arms dealer for corruption involving Korean co

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, July 1

THE CBI HAS booked purported arms dealer Sanjay Bhandari for allegedly receiving about $50 lakh from Korean company Samsung Engineering to influence officials in granting a contract for a DFCU project of OPAL at Dabai in Gujarat, officials said Wednesday.

The probe agency has also named the then Senior Manager of Samsung Engineering Hong Namkoong, UK-based Foster Wheeler Energy Ltd and Bhandari's UAE-based company Santech International FZC besides unidentified officials of ONGC and its special vehicle ONGC Petro Additions (OPAL) for alleged corruption, they said. Bhandari who is being probed in a number of defence deals is believed to be in London, they said.

The CBI has alleged that Bhandari as Director of Santech International entered into a criminal conspiracy with SECL by charging a consultancy fee of $49.99 lakh from it, in violation of the integrity clause in the contract agreement between the Korean company and OPAL, they alleged.

The alleged consultancy fee was received in overseas accounts of Santech International, they said.

The agency has alleged that the consultancy charges were understood to be bribes for public officials.

Sisodia orders audit into accounts of Delhi Univ college

Aranya Shankar
NEW DELHI, JULY 1

Deputy CM Manish Sisodia Wednesday asked the Directorate of Higher Education to audit accounts of Delhi-government funded Bhagat Singh Nehru College (BNC) for the last two years, after he received complaints of financial irregularities against the principal.

"These complaints have come from different stakeholders like students, parents, teachers, etc. These allegations of financial irregularities in tendering processes, hiring of a car for the principal, buying of unnecessary items not needed in an educational institution, etc," Sisodia wrote to the Secretary Higher Education. "Directorate of Higher Education should immediately get the accounts of the last two years audited, preferably by a CAG empanelled auditor."

Manisha Saxena, Secretary Higher Education, said she had not yet received the letter and added that the department had asked 12 colleges funded by Delhi government for salary bills and recruitment details earlier.

When contacted, BNC principal Charu Sharma said, "I am shocked to hear this. I didn't know about it. I only took over as principal in April last year. Since the last one year, we have seen an increase in academic seminars and student activities. The college should be known for that rather than this." BNC governing body chairperson Pavan Sharma claimed he had also received complaints against the principal but did not divulge details. Asked if the GHMC took a call to probe the complaints, Sharma said the last meeting on June 9 ended in a walkout by some members, so the issue was not brought up.

This is not the first time the principal of BNC has faced allegations of financial and administrative irregularities.

Former principal Purbhajit Sakha had faced allegations of irregularities in faculty appointment, harassment of staff, misuse of staff car, bribery, following which the Delhi HC had suspended her.
