Palaniswami interacts with farmers, assures to give a boost to agriculture sector

Chiama, Aug 29: To start capital-intensive irrigation projects in the Cauvery delta region, Tamil Nadu government has allocated Rs 3,384 crore for the region. Agriculture Minister Edappadi Palaniswami announced this in a meeting held in Thanjavur.

Addressing representatives of various irrigation projects, the minister said that the government was ensuring safe water availability for irrigation till the tail end areas in the Cauvery delta region to be implemented at an appropriate time.

He added that the government also inaugurated 36 buildings and other infrastructural facilities to complete projects at a cost of Rs 500 crore.

Chief Minister Palaniswami addressed farmers in Coimbatore and Salem in western Tamil Nadu and Thiruvallur and Thiruvarur in the Cauvery delta region.

As an MP, Vasantha Kumar, who was the successful businessman in the Congress ticket in the Vellore-Chennai constituency on a Congress show, Sania Vaagha, was the most known for his company, an agricultural equipment manufacturer. The company was facing a tough time in the industry with a number of employees who were even facing trouble in getting their salaries.

With the company’s logo and advertisements featuring his smiling visage, Vasantha Kumar continued to be one of the most frequently recognizable candidates in the elections.
